Ridgway's Letter Charging 'Overemphasis' On Bombers Stirs Senate Controversy

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Fresh Senate controversy over the administration's "new look" military program was stirred today by a hitherto secret letter from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Ridgway, whose retirement as Army chief of staff June 30 was reported to have been hastened by his opposition to cuts in Army strength, wrote a parting blast at what he called "overemphasis on atomic bombers."

$12 Billion Tax Urged To Finance Roads

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The House Public Works Committee voted 22-6 today for a biggest-in-history road-building program over the next 12 years, and recommended 12 billion dollars in new taxes to help pay for it.

Approved for House action was a bill calling for 48¢ billion dollars worth of construction for public roads, including about 25¢ billions to be put up by the federal government. Most of this would go to complete 40,000 miles of super-highways across the nation.

The federal gasoline tax would be upped a penny a gallon for the next 15 years—from 2 to 3 cents—and levies on several other automotive items would be increased.

Early House Action

Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), acting committee chairman, reported the measure will be redrafted over the weekend for technical purposes and brought before the House group for a final vote Monday.

Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) has listed the bill for early action by the House, probably by next week.

The Senate has already passed a multibillion-dollar highway construction measure of its own, which doesn't include a method for financing. President Eisenhower's program for highway expansion called for financing through long-term borrowings, but this was turned down in both the Senate and in the House committee.

Committee informants said today's 22-6 vote included Democrats among the dissenters, but they did not say how many.

GOP Chides Harve Taylor

HARRISBURG, July 15 (AP)—Criticism was leveled at Sen. M. Harve Taylor (R-Dauphin) today by his home Republican club for opposing Gov. Leader's appointment of Rep. William J. Green Jr. (D-Pa.) to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The monthly Harrisburg Republican Club News in an article entitled "Look Who's 'Crying Politics'" asserted that Taylor has thrown a roadblock in the way of confirmation of Green's appointment.

As Senate president pro tempore, Taylor is "not without influence among the Senate's Republican majority" and the appointment could be held up for a long time, the article noted.

Very Poor Grace

It charged that if Taylor's only objection to Green is concern over "political considerations" involved, then "his (Taylor's) criticism comes with very poor grace."

"Harve Taylor has never been one to disregard political considerations in his own long and variegated career on the public payroll," the magazine said.

"If anyone in the Commonwealth is able to smell politics—and the fruits derived therefrom—a mile distant, it should be Harve Taylor and accordingly he should be the last one to criticize political appointments as such."

Wally Cox Fired By Night Club

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 15 (AP)—Wally Cox, the Mr. Peepers of television, has been fired from a $44,000 night club engagement because he assertedly laid an egg. The Dunes confirmed reports that the shy, bespectacled comedian had been canceled after three performances in the hotel's night club.

Red Premier Declares He Seeks Peace

MOSCOW, July 15 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin said today the Soviet Union is going to Geneva seeking peace—but it has noted war preparations by other states. He observed that the U.S.S.R. has "a very good army with all the necessary equipment" to safeguard its security.

Bulganin pledged the Soviet delegation to the summit talks to great efforts to "attain the lofty aims of the conference," and expressed hope the other powers would exert equal efforts. The Soviet aim, he said, will be to find a common ground for easing tension and strengthening confidence among states.

He read a statement, announced in advance as a general declaration on the summit conference opening Monday. He apparently took note of the recent suggestion of French Premier Edgar Faure on the possibility of using money saved in cutting arms production for improving standards of living.

The Soviet Premier said relaxation of tension could lead to "business-like cooperation" among states, and added:

For Peoples' Good
"This would enable the states to use the colossal funds, which now finance armaments, for the good of the peoples."

Bulganin received correspondents at the Kremlin. With him were the other top members of the Soviet delegation to Geneva: Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

He read the statement in Russian. It was translated but no text was given the reporters. About 75 correspondents had come prepared to ask questions, but once the statement was translated, the Soviet leaders strode briskly from the room. The whole thing lasted just 20 minutes.

"Some people," the statement said, "think capitalism is better than socialism. We are convinced the opposite is the case. This argument cannot be settled by force, through war. Let everyone prove in peaceful economic competition whether he is right."

Sees Future Disputes
"There are many unsettled, disputed questions in the world, and this will be the case in the future. Such is life. But we can and must discuss these questions patiently and loyally at a round table conference, and find a peaceful solution to them. It is said that even a bad peace is better than a good war. (As broadcast by Moscow radio, this was translated "a good quarrel.") And if we exert all efforts and achieve not a bad, but a good, real peace, millions of men and women in all countries will draw a sigh of relief."

Taylor, in a talk to the 170 civilian leaders, generals and admirals here for the annual defense secretaries' conference, discussed the impact "of future planned reduction in forces" in Japan and Korea. A brief summary of what Taylor talked about was issued after the closed-door meeting.

Ground Force Cut
There seemed reason to believe that any new reduction in Far East strength would be in ground forces, possibly the withdrawal of one or more divisions.

At peak strength during the Korean War, the United States had about eight Army and one Marine division in the area. The manpower of those divisions, together with those of air and naval forces and noncombat units, totaled more than half a million men.

Today the total manpower is about 250,000, with three divisions and two regimental combat teams in Korea, Japan and Okinawa.

Taylor said reductions in U.S. forces made necessary "major tactical and logistical adjustments."

Farmer Receives First Pension
BAKERSFIELD, Calif., July 15 (AP)—A 72-year-old cotton and potato rancher today became the first farmer in the nation to receive Social Security old-age benefits.

William G. Coyote Neumann received his first check for $514.80, covering three period payments, according to Harry A. Rose, manager of the Bakersfield Social Security office. Rose said Neumann is eligible for monthly benefits of $80, plus $40 for his wife.

The rancher, who still works his fields, qualified for payments last Jan. 1 under a 1954 amendment to the Social Security Act which permits self-employed farmers to pay Social Security taxes and become eligible for benefits at 65.

Rose said Neumann paid the tax for six quarters prior to Jan. 1, 1955.

Murrow Escapes Injury In Crash
YAKIMA, Wash., July 15 (AP)—Newscaster Edward R. Murrow, two members of his family and 12 other persons escaped uninjured when a Northwest Airlines plane they were aboard struck a pole while landing in a thunderstorm here tonight.

Airline officials said the twin-engine DC3 was caught in a sharp wind shift as it taxied down the runway before its right wingtip struck the pole.

Six feet of the wing was crushed but no other damage was reported. Three of the 15 persons aboard were crew members.

NO MIRACLES, but perhaps a lessening of the cold war is the expected result of the Big Four meeting in Geneva, Switzerland. Likely subjects are nuclear weapons control, German reunification, European security. Cost of this meeting to the United States is estimated at $275,000.

Ike Attacks Reduction In AEC Funds

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today a cut voted by Congress in funds for the Atomic Energy Commission could seriously disrupt this country's nuclear weapon production and other developments in the atomic field.

The President spoke out in a statement announcing he had signed with "great reluctance" a compromise bill appropriating $1,365,613,500 to finance AEC, the Tennessee Valley Authority and a number of public works programs in the current fiscal year.

He said the amount provided for AEC, together with the estimated amount carried over from the last fiscal year, would provide a total obligatory authority of $1,380,847,000 for operating expenses in 1955-56, or $144,404,000 less than he requested.

"A reduction of this magnitude," he said, "could seriously interfere with the commission's plans to produce atomic weapons, to develop propulsion reactors for the Navy and the Air Force, and to develop peaceful applications of atomic energy, including the production of electric power."

"These are most crucial programs in maintaining a strong national defense and in maintaining this nation's leadership in bringing the benefits of atomic energy to the service of mankind both here and abroad."

Forest Fire Reported

HARRISBURG, July 15 (AP)—A forest fire, fed by tinder-dry leaves and pine needles, raged out of control tonight over a 100-acre area of land near Clarke's Ferry, about 15 miles north of here.

Secret Service Men To Guard Top American, Russian Leaders During Big Four Conference

Geneva, July 15 (AP)—American and Russian secret service men today clamped down supersecurity regulations on Geneva's Big Four conference.

The men from the Potomac and the Volga will separately guard President Eisenhower and the top men of the Kremlin. They are making sure that no one threatens their bosses.

They have historical precedent. Shortly after World War I, a Soviet delegate to an international conference was assassinated at nearby Lausanne.

Regulations Requested
The government men from Washington and Moscow have asked the Swiss authorities to:

Halt all traffic on roads between the airport and the villas being used by the Americans and the Russians when the top men are arriving.

Insist that all photographers have open and unloaded cameras when they approach the airport. Instruct Swiss customs men to note suspicious-looking arrivals and give strange-looking luggage a thorough going over.

Mercury Hits 94 Degrees; Humidity Relatively High

THE MERCURY climbed to 94 degrees in Stroudsburg yesterday. It was three degrees higher than the reading Thursday.

At High Point, Mount Pocono, the thermometer registered 84.2 degrees at 1 p.m. yesterday. It is normally 10 degrees cooler at High Point than the Stroudsburg reading.

The low for Thursday night in Stroudsburg was 65 and at 7 a.m. the temperature was 74 degrees in this borough. At 8 p.m. it was 88 degrees according to weather observer Pierre Lake.

60 Per Cent Humidity

Thursday's high in Stroudsburg was 91 with a low of 60 degrees for the preceding night.

Humidity was relatively high during the day yesterday. Julia Grady, official weather observer at High Point, said last night the humidity measured "about 60 per cent" during most of the day there.

High Point's low for the preceding night was 64 degrees. It was 82 degrees there at 7 last night. At 8:30 the mercury reading had dropped four degrees to 78, Mrs. Grady said.

Plane Crash Takes 21 Lives

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (AP)—Officials of the Lausa Airline said tonight 21 persons, including two Americans, apparently lost their lives in the crash of a burning DC3 plane in southern Mexico yesterday.

Earlier reports said seven persons were killed. Rescue squads of soldiers reached the smoldering wreck today but could not tell exactly how many were on the plane.

Above-Normal Temperatures Are Forecast

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The Weather Bureau said today its 30-day outlook for mid-July to mid-August calls for temperatures to average below normal in the Southeast and Far West.

The bureau added: "In the remainder of the country above normal temperatures are expected, with greatest departures in the Central Plains and Great Lakes region."

"Precipitation is predicted to exceed normal in the southeastern and northwestern sectors of the nation. Below normal amounts are anticipated in a broad zone extending from New England southwestward through the Middle Mississippi Valley to the Central Plains. Elsewhere near normal amounts are expected."

Lost $325,000

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Testimony that the government lost $325,000 on a 1952 zinc stockpiling contract which had been red-flagged in advance by a government investigator was made public by two congressional committees today.

Mutual Distrust Called Chief Bar To World Peace

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower took off for the Big Four conference tonight, declaring there will be "no trouble" with the men in the Kremlin if they really mean their words of "conciliation and toleration and understanding."

The chief executive made the qualified forecast in a dramatic TV-radio address shortly before his plane, Columbine III, left the ground and headed eastward through the night for Eisenhower's potentially fateful meeting with the leaders of Russia, Britain and France.

In the broadcast he declared that if a 10-year-old spirit of mutual distrust can be lifted at Geneva, then "we will have taken the greatest step toward peace, toward future prosperity and tranquility that has ever been taken in all the history of mankind."

The President, with his wife and son accompanying him, took off from Military Air Transport Service airport at 9:18 p.m.

Plea For Prayers

Only a few minutes before he had ended his broadcast with a plea for every American to pray in church next Sabbath for success of the Big Four conference—for an end to the threat of the "terrible scourge" of war.

The Eisenhower plane is scheduled to make one refueling stop at Keflavik, Iceland, a U. S. Air Force installation. During a two-hour stopover there tomorrow morning the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be luncheon guests of President Asgeir Asgeirsson of Iceland.

All along the route from the White House to the airport, people leaned from automobiles and waved. At the White House gate a knot of bystanders had cheered as Eisenhower's limousine shot by—the ceiling dome light flicked on by the President, adding luster to his grin.

At the airport, a queue of foreign diplomats—some in formal dress—greeted the President and wished him godspeed.

Behind a guard of honor and a chain fence stood perhaps 200 excited people. They cheered, waved and oohed—particularly when Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Servilla-Sacasa presented Mrs. Eisenhower with a huge orchid.

Soviet Envoy There

Eisenhower was in a jovial mood, contrasting with his grave manner in the broadcast. He shook hands heartily with the diplomats and with Vice President Nixon and Mrs. Nixon. He waved to the crowd. Mrs. Eisenhower beamed as did Maj. John Eisenhower.

The diplomats included the Soviet charge d'affaires, Sergei R. Striganov. His appearance came as a general surprise.

In his preflight broadcast Eisenhower promised he and Secretary of State Dulles would be firm in principle yet conciliatory in attitude at Geneva.

Eisenhower said Soviet Premier Bulganin "talked tolerance and understanding" at Moscow today. If that spirit really animates the Soviets at Geneva, he said, "there'll be no trouble between the Russian delegation and this country."

Earnest Hope

At the outset of the speech, he declared he was going to Geneva to attempt to free mankind from the fear of that "terrible scourge"—war. As he faced the TV cameras his manner was one of sober earnestness, tinged with hope.

Yet he warned at the outset that the world's problems are too many and too serious to be settled at a single conference—a conference, he said firmly, that will last no more than a week as far as he is concerned.

He listed some of these problems—mounting armaments, for example. Then he named a couple that the Russians don't want talked about at Geneva—the satellite states, or, as the President described them, "the captive states, once proud people that are not allowed their own government."

Red Subversion
He mentioned, too, though not by that name, the West's problem of Communist subversion. He called it: "international interference in the internal affairs of free government, bringing about a situation that leads to subversion and difficulties and recriminations within the countries—sometimes, even revolution."

On the whole, however, the President's attitude was one of conciliation—of promising the United States will not reject any hand outstretched in true friendship.

"Did you note," asked the President, "the speech made by Premier Bulganin in Moscow this morning?"

"But," he added with a smile, "later on it got real dark."

West Drafts Strategy For Geneva

PARIS, July 15 (AP)—Western Big Three foreign ministers completed their plans today for the summit meeting with the Russians, confident the sessions can open the way to new talks on reunifying Germany and limiting the world's arms.

A feeling was manifest that progress by the Big Four next week in Geneva will be more a matter of spirit and atmosphere than of formal agreements. In fact, the Western Powers are not going there with any drafts of formal agreements in their briefcases. The Russians, however, may turn up with some.

President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Faure and Premier Bulganin will have their first meeting Monday. The expectation is that there will be a series of orders by the end of the week to their foreign ministers to develop specific agreements on:

Agreements Sought

1. Unifying Communist East Germany and anti-Communist West Germany through free elections.

2. Security arrangements in Europe that will make both Communist and anti-Communist countries feel safe—perhaps by taking up West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's suggestion that a reunified Germany should seek no more than the 12 army divisions to which he is now limited.

3. Global armament limitation—maybe with some new suggestions to the United Nations subcommittee which has been working on the problem.

Hotel Employee Held In Slaying

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—A 21-year-old hotel maintenance man was reported tonight by police to have confessed he strangled 58-year-old Adlyn Woodington, former actress and wardrobe mistress.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Alvin H. Goldstein said the slaying had been admitted by Marion Gaillard, an employee of the Hotel Chesterfield, in the Times Square area, where Miss Woodington lived.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

Have enough gas for where you're going, Mister?

Well, little matter. You can always get more at some service station.

The same goes if unexpected guests drop in at home. You can buy bread, meat, or eggs at a nearby store . . . or you can borrow from a neighbor.

But this is not possible when a serious emergency strikes. You have to be prepared beforehand. You can't buy strength of spirit. Nor can you borrow it. It grows within you, little at a time.

So be prepared when disappointment, discouragement, trouble, or grief strike.

Through worship at Church fortify yourself with faith and courage. Get acquainted with God's love and wisdom.

Come what may, you'll be ready for any emergency.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Leader Of Opposition To Income Tax Is Democrat From Democratic County

There's something very significant in the fact that one of the leaders of the hard core of resistance to Gov. Leader's classified income tax is not only a Democrat, but a Democrat from that most staunch Democratic stronghold of Allegheny County.

Here's a region which consistently shows its Democratic strength—a district which has stood up stoutly for Mr. Leader's party when other so-called Democratic strongholds weakened.

It is the district dominated and directed by the astute Mayor David L. Lawrence, a chieftain, if you please, in the Democratic party for many a year—and still a most potent figure to be reckoned with in Democratic circles.

It is also the district of Rep. Matt S. Anderson—a Democrat as you would naturally suspect.

Matt Anderson announced Thursday that he has 20 House Democrats who will follow him in voting against the Governor's income tax. This statement was in face of one by Gov. Leader that he is certain of 102 votes when the measure comes up July 26—he needs 106—and has a half dozen more on which there's no definite assurance at this moment.

Easy To Be In Contempt Of Court If You Open Your Acres To Wheat

(From The Wall Street Journal)

Farmers have paid some $5 million in fines to the Federal Government for growing more than the law allows.

So the black robed judge mounts his bench of a morning and calls the case of John Doe.

JUDGE: "What is the charge against this man?"

DISTRICT ATTORNEY: "He has been growing wheat, your Honor."

JUDGE: "Growing wheat eh. Let's see, Doe, haven't you been up here on the same charge before?"

DOE: "Twice, your Honor. You see, I have a flock of chickens and I grow wheat to feed them. My father did the same thing for years and when we grow our own feed we produce chickens and eggs cheaper than when we have to buy feed. I know they say that is against the law but I just can't believe it."

JUDGE: "Well, you better believe it. You are a third offender and you come up

Matt Anderson and his Allegheny County constituents have had some experience with a tax on wages—in fact a very edifying experience. Mayor Lawrence promoted and had such a tax adopted. The good people of that region are fully aware of the slice taken from their payday earnings.

Matt Anderson and his constituents know that this nick comes out along with Federal Payroll deductions every time they get paid. They also know that out of their gross pay will come another cut, if the Leader classified income tax is adopted—a three-time grab out of gross pay, which means a tax on a tax on a tax.

It is also worthy of note that Allegheny County is the stronghold of the CIO and many A. F. of L. Unions. Surely Rep. Matt Anderson is well aware of this.

Yet, he is the apparent spokesman of 20 Democrats who oppose the Leader classified income tax.

That showdown on July 26 is a tremendously important date to Matt Anderson and his Allegheny County people. It should be just as important to every other citizen of the state. Important enough to tell your elected representatives how you feel about a classified income tax.

here citing your father. Now there's your neighbor, Richard Roe. He used to grow wheat but he stopped.

DOE: "Yes, I know, your Honor but Roe lost his farm and had to go on relief. That was another thing father taught us—never to rely on other people for our living."

JUDGE: "Your father, again. He had an old-fashioned point of view. I hope you are bringing your own children up in better fashion. There is enough juvenile delinquency now."

DISTRICT ATTORNEY: "I wish to correct the record. Richard Roe is not on relief. He is now a Government inspector. In fact he was the one who ferreted out what Mr. Doe was doing."

DOE (mumbling): "Father always said they were a bad lot."

JUDGE: "This man keeps talking about his father. It seems almost a mania."

DOE: "Well, someone is crazy."

JUDGE: "Doe, you are fined $100 for growing wheat and $1,000 for contempt of court."

George Sokolsky Says...

Too Many Young People Look For Jobs With Some Kind Of Guaranteed Living

Life on the East Side of New York was tough half a century ago. Nothing in Horatio Alger's stories ever accurately described the poverty, the crowded living, the inadequate food, the worry over pennies.

Into this world was born Henry Garfinkle whose father died at 37 when he, Henry, was a little over 14. Someone had to work, so Henry, the eldest, started at a guaranteed wage of 25 cents a day.

What is news in this is not that a boy rose from rags to riches, from newsboy to the head of the American News Company. That has happened often in the United States. What makes it news is that it is still happening. Smart, enterprising, hard-working men are still doing it and doing it not by conning and trickery, by strike suits and raids on companies, but by constructive enterprise.

I know Garfinkle. I grew up in my childhood, in the same environment, in circumstances slightly better than his, for there are degrees of poverty and his family was at the bottom. When he was a newsboy at the Staten Island ferry, his benefactor was Samuel L. Newhouse who came from a better environment in Bayonne, New Jersey, but not so much better. Sam staked Henry to $800, which was a fortune for both of them in those days. Today, Sam Newhouse owns some 13 newspapers, among them are very important ones. The $800 Newhouse gave Garfinkle was used to get a newsstand inside the ferry-house at Staten Island.

Henry was at 17, a capitalist, with a leased property employing assistants. That was the start of his present important business position. The point of this kind of enterprise is that the boss does most of the work and he saves his money and he lives poor until he can afford to live rich. Even today, Henry Garfinkle has a hoarse voice, the kind that comes from constantly shouting headlines. A 16-to-18-hour day, with the wife helping, that is the kind of capitalism that is still possible in this country. There are many Garfinkles in all parts of the country.

Too many young people, coming out of college, look to jobs that bring some kind of guaranteed living, some kind of security. Too many of them seek a job in which one moves upward by seniority until one graduates into a pension. Men like Henry Garfinkle have never had a guarantee of any kind, neither from their parents nor from government. They took their chances on their ability and hard work.

Henry Garfinkle was as surprised as his friends were that he finally achieved his ambition, first expressed when he was 17 years old, in 1923, to the Newhouses to become the owner of the American News Company which last year did a business of $180,000,000. And all the news and excitement, and the comparisons with a character out of Horatio Alger hardly affect him, because he remembers his origin and is not unmindful of the weary years of growth, the plugging and pushing, the failures and the constant fear of falling off the ladder of life back into the poverty which killed his father at 37.

This father was what in my boyhood was known as a "customer peddler." This was an interesting character in every household. He provided credit in very small amounts, for all our parents needed a little credit. That is how we got furniture or an engagement ring, a piano which was the first sign of progress in those days, or even a suit of clothes. The customer peddler was paid a quarter or half a dollar a week on account and he came every week to collect his money, he became a friend, a counselor, a mediator in family quarrels. Sometimes, he even arranged marriages, bringing the boys and girls together and working out their problems, then he sold them the engagement ring, the suite of furniture to set up a home, and even the wedding ring.

It was a way to earn a living. Many an important business in New York started when a customer peddler put his small savings into a store or a factory. And out of such little affairs came a Henry Garfinkle, now president and principal owner of the American News Company, the smaller yacht club family-night dinners. Food tasters are already on the scene in force at Geneva and some of them are pretty wonderful. One claims he can detect poison in an omelette by merely sniffing. His closest rival has a reputation for finding deadly poison in Chili con carne by a sense of touch. Perhaps the most notable food taster "at the summit" will be X. Pierre Grummitt, who went through all the food served at Potsdam and Yalta and still has his original gall bladder. Others include Welles K. Mulally who got the Purple Pancreas (which is to food tasters what the purple heart is to military men) for eating an apple dropped from a paper bag carried by Molotov as he boarded a ship for home while professing great affection for American museums.

Lack Of Know-How Causes Waste Of Freedom To Think

"University Women Are Rallied To Defend Freedom To Think," said one of the headlines over the report of the keynote address to the recent convention of the American Association of University Women by the association's president, Dr. Susan B. Riley.

I didn't read the full text of Dr. Riley's speech and I don't propose to pick any bone with her on the strength of that headline, for it may not have expressed exactly what she had in mind. A little farther down in the news story I got an impression that she may have been talking not so much about man's freedom to think as about his ability to think his way out of his present-day difficulties.

There's a difference. Nobody needs to rally to the defense of man's freedom to think. That's one freedom that can't be taken away from him, thank God. At least not by anyone but himself.

His freedom to act as he thinks best, or his freedom to say what he thinks, can be curtailed. But the straitjacket hasn't been designed that can keep him from thinking what he pleases.

However, ability to think—now, that's a horse of another color. If man had about one-hundredth the ability to think that he has freedom to think, he might not have any present-day difficulties worth mentioning.

It is lack of know-how that leads him to waste so much of his freedom to think. That's what makes him swallow so much half-baked information without tasting it first. It's what makes him let his prejudice and emotional bias run away with his thinking.

And that, in turn, is what brings him up with so many wrong answers that sometimes he throws up his hands and decides there's no use even trying to think his way out of difficulties.

It wouldn't be so bad if all this were confined just to the people who really don't know how to think logically. Maybe they can't help that.

But freedom to think takes an even worse beating from those who do know how to think but simply don't use the know-how they have.

Oddly enough it is among these people that you hear most of the wailing about the alleged imperilment of freedom to think. What they need is not more freedom but more determination to use the intelligence God gave them in the way they know very well it should be used. When people have been trained to think you expect them to weigh information separately from their own emotional reactions to it. You expect them to appraise its quality accurately regardless of whether they hold its source in contempt or in high esteem.

That's the essence of their freedom to think. If they don't prize it highly enough to defend it themselves the AAUW can't defend it for them.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Voltaire, recalls Pierre LaMure, author of "Moulin Rouge," excelled in everything but profitable playwriting. Because he was a great writer, his most piddling dramas received respectful attention from the critics, but the Paris public, alas, stayed away from them in droves.

One day, Voltaire met a learned friend, Piron, and said, with some effort at enthusiasm, "Well, my latest tragedy seemed to go over at its premiere the other evening. I noted considerable applause. And there definitely was no hissing."

"Yes, I was there," said Piron softly. "One should remember, my friend, that you cannot hiss while you are yawning!"

Mike Connolly encountered a kid in Hollywood who subsists entirely on gruesome stories. He's read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" three times—and still thinks Simon Legree is the hero.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Reds Operate Jets From Grass Covered Airfields

Washington — Russia has devised a method of operating high-speed jet fighter planes from grass-covered airfields.

This sinister information comes from British Intelligence.

If it's true, it is another foreboding development in the Soviet's steadily increasing air strength. This ominous news comes on top of the recent disclosure that the Reds have a number of giant strategic bombers comparable to the B-52, of which only a few are so far operational.

Fearful significance of the British Intelligence report is that if the Russians are able to operate jet fighters from cheap and quickly-built airfields, they will have dealt a serious blow to the immensely costly system of massive NATO airfields.

This grim question was discussed at a private meeting between Assistant Defense Secretary Franklin G. Floete and a group of congressional leaders. He was interrogated particularly by Representative Robert Sikes (D., Fla.) who knew about the British report.

"In this age of nuclear weapons and guided missiles," Sikes pointed out, "I wonder if it is realistic to continue building huge bases instead of engaging in dispersal activities."

"We are working on new methods," said Floete. "We're working on jet planes that take off from a standing position. But in the meanwhile we can't stop our present requirements."

"If the Russians are smart enough to take jets off of grass runways or runways shorter than ours," declared Sikes, "why can't we do it?"

"I have no comment on that," replied Floete.

"Well, is it true or isn't it?" demanded Sikes.

"We don't know whether it is or not," explained Floete. "I have read that in a certain intelligence report, but we don't know whether the information is correct."

"Well, it would seem to me you people ought to know," snapped Sikes. "Information of this kind is of the utmost importance. If the Central Intelligence Agency can't provide it, then I say we're wasting a lot of money on that agency."

Floete made no reply.

Congressional rhetoric — A lot of officials are getting in on the act!

With the historic "summit" conference about to convene, some House members took occasion to air their views about it and other aspects of foreign policy, particularly the mutual aid program. The lawmakers didn't shed any light on the subject, but that didn't keep them from talking.

Representative H. R. Gross (R., Ia.), a militant isolationist, viewed the impending parley darkly. "The gentleman thinks it will be a good thing to send the President to Geneva," thundered Gross,

"where he will have to tell the foreign governments that they cannot back up their wagon to the door and take the cash off the counter; that they will have to take it on a loan basis, or not at all. What do you think the President will think of that?"

"The President will say to them," replied Representative John Vorys (R., O.), "From now on we are going to emphasize loans rather than grants, wherever possible."

"It seems to me," retorted Gross, "that we must remember lend-lease. How much have we repaid on the billions that we went into lend-lease?"

Representative Mayne Hays (D., O.) contended that Gross would be "agreeable surprised" by the amount that has been recovered.

"Exactly how much of the $160,000,000,000 that we handed out in lend-lease during the war and in the various give-away programs since then have we gotten back?" demanded Gross. "Does the gentleman from Ohio have that answer?"

Representative Armistead Selden (D., Ala.) spoke up with the information that more than $3,000,000,000 has been repaid, plus another $1,000,000,000 in interest.

"Out of how much?" asked Gross.

"Out of approximately $14,000,000,000 loaned since the end of World War II," replied Selden.

And that's the way the discussion went on and on at great and inconclusive length.

Stalled — That high-powered backstage drive to return more than $75,000,000 of confiscated German assets appears headed for the ditch.

Representative Percy Priest (D., Tenn.), chairman of the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee, has served private notice he contemplates no legislation on the issue at this session.

"I'm going to name a subcommittee to study this matter fully and deliberately," Priest told party leaders, "and that means there is no chance of anything being done on it this year. It will have to go over until 1956, at least, and maybe longer. I'm in no hurry, and I don't understand what all the rush is about."

One party leader pointed out, "There is tremendous pressure behind this proposition."

"Don't I know it," exclaimed Priest. "I have never seen so much pressure in all the years I've been in Congress. By actual count, 45 New York, Chicago and Washington lawyers have telephoned me, pleading, urging and demanding that a bill be reported out without delay. They have called me at all hours of the day and night. Why, one of them even had the gall to get me out of bed at three o'clock in the morning. The nerve of these lobbyists!"

Note: Three former senators are among the most active in pushing this legislation. One has been very busy buttonholing key members of both chambers. The interests behind the measure also have a publicity agent, who sends frequent pronouncements to Washington newsmen.

Q. Will I, as a self-employed farm owner need a Social Security number under the farm coverage program?
A. Yes, the only way you can receive Social Security credit for your self-employment income is to report this income on your yearly tax return under your Social Security number.

Social Security Answers

—by H. G. Heller

Q. I am 65 years of age and expect to apply for social security retirement benefits. I was born in Europe and I cannot obtain a birth certificate. How can I prove that I am 65?

A. At the time you apply for benefits, we inform you what proof can be used. Some acceptable proofs are: old naturalization records, old family records, military records, and old insurance policies. These are just a few of the types of proofs that can be used. The value of the record for proving age depends a great deal on how old it is and under what conditions it was made. A birth record at the time a child was born or a record of infant baptism have the highest value, but if proof of age is needed, we use the best proof obtainable.

Q. I am a widow receiving social security benefits for myself and one child who will be 18 years of age in January. I understand that the last check will be for the month of December both for my child and for myself. Is this correct?

A. It is correct, because there is no benefit payable for the month in which the child becomes 18 and thereafter, no benefit is paid to the widow under 65 who no longer has a child under 18 in her care. However, benefits can again be paid when the widow is 65 and not remarried, but she must reapply for widow's benefits when she is 65.

Q. I've worked for my son for the past four years. Last week I was told that this work does not count for social security credits. Is this correct?

A. Yes it is; specifically excluded from social security coverage is work performed by a father or mother for their children.

Q. I am a widow receiving mother's benefits for myself and three minor children. If my oldest son goes to work and earns over $1200 this year, will this affect my benefits or the benefits of the other children?

A. No. The retirement test applies to you and your children separately. If your oldest son earns over $1200 this year, only his account will be adjusted.

Q. Once a week I hire a man to take care of my garden. Do I have to report his wages for Social Security purposes?

A. If you pay your gardener at least $50 cash wages in a calendar quarter, you must report his wages to the Bureau of Internal Revenue in order to credit him with Social Security coverage.

Q. Will I, as a self-employed farm owner need a Social Security number under the farm coverage program?

A. Yes, the only way you can receive Social Security credit for your self-employment income is to report this income on your yearly tax return under your Social Security number.

PUC Examiner Hears Testimony On Closing DL&W Station

Mount pocono Area People Take Stand

A PARADE OF witnesses opposing and advocating shutdown of the agency railroad station at Mount Pocono marched through the main courtroom at Monroe County Court House yesterday.

The Public Utility Commission hearing on the railroad's application began at 10 a. m. Daniel Jenkins, Scranton, was the examiner for the case.

Attorneys for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad presented statistics to show that business at the Mount Pocono station had declined from 1951 to 1954.

Citizens of the Mount Pocono area testified that the borough is "looking forward" and is now entering a new period of prosperity when all utilities should be attempting to improve their services to the area.

Opposition Testifies

Witnesses expressed opposition on grounds that closing the depot would be an inconvenience to them. Stated to be shut down with the station is the Railway Express agency office at the depot, according to the DL and W application.

Testimony introduced by the applicants said it "would not be feasible to set up a separate office for Railway Express" at the location. An express official called to the stand by the railroad attorneys said that shipments had averaged 144 monthly so far in 1955, a figure lower than the year-round average for 1954.

In cross-examination Walter Olenick, one of three citizens' attorneys, asked the witness if the average for 1955 would not be higher if it were to include shipments for June, July and August, the months when heaviest shipments were made from the station and into it.

Railroad Witnesses

All of the afternoon session and most of the afternoon was taken up by witnesses for the railroad and the express agency. Citizens began to take the stand in mid-afternoon at about 3:30 p. m.

The first witness called by citizens' attorneys was Willard Webster, of the National Drug Co. laboratories at Swiftwater. Webster testified that his company utilizes the Mount Pocono station for incoming shipments at a rate of about $800 yearly. In addition to this, he said, officials and representatives of the company use the railroad depot for between 20 and 25 passenger trips each year.

Brian Walker, Mount Pocono postmaster, was the second citizen's witness. Walker emphasized that he was neither opposing nor advocating closing of the depot but was testifying to show use of the railroad service at present by the postal department through the Mount Pocono post office.

Walker said his office now has a mail exchange with four trains daily. In addition there are two other trains with which mail exchange may be made. He pointed out that use of the Pocono Summit depot — as was suggested by railroad attorneys — would cause delay at all times and especially during winter months when alternate routes in the area might be in bad driving condition.

Largest Town In County — Leroy Denger, Mount Pocono resort owner, was the next witness for the citizens' group. He testified closing the station would work an inconvenience on his business since about 10 per cent of his guests arrive in Mount Pocono by train.

Denger pointed out that Mount Pocono is the largest community in the mountain regions of Monroe County. The railroad depot should, by rights, be located in the center of population, he said.

Other witnesses called to testify as opposing the potential shutdown of the depot included Harry Taylor, George W. Tripp, George Dowdall and others.

Testimony heard in yesterday's hearing will be forwarded to Harrisburg by Jenkins with his recommendation as examiner. Fate of the depot must be decided by the PUC commissioners on the State level, however.

Besides Olenick, the local attorneys acting for the citizens' group are Charles Bensinger and Elmer D. Christie.

Two Vehicles In Minor Crash

BUSHKILL — A car and truck were damaged slightly in a collision on Route 209 near here at 7:15 last night.

Milford State police said the accident occurred when Walter Bachman, 45, of Luzerne, Pa., passed a car driven by Abe Chechter, 56, of Bronx, N. Y. and cut back into the right-hand lane too sharply with his truck.

No one was injured. Damages were estimated at less than $200. Troopers Frank Miculucci and Edwin Pierce were in charge of the investigation.

DEATHS

BENNETT, Earl Ernest, of East Stroudsburg, Friday, July 15, 1955, aged 27 years. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral services Monday, July 18 at 2:30 from the Lanterman funeral home. Interment to be announced.

East Stroudsburg Resident Decapitated By Train After Escape From State Hospital

THE HEADLESS BODY of an East Stroudsburg man who had escaped three hours before from Allentown State Hospital was found at 11:20 a. m. yesterday at Phillipsburg, N. J. on the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

From clothes worn by the victim, police identified him as Earl Ernest Bennett, 27, formerly of 67 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg.

Truck Kills Man Fleeing Institution

SCRANTON, July 15 (AP)—August Frioni, 25, of Scranton, was struck and killed by a truck today just after he dashed out of the Clarks Summit State Hospital and while being chased by three hospital guards.

He was committed to the institution a short time ago as a mental patient. Frioni had escaped from the hospital last Tuesday and was captured yesterday in Englewood, N. Y.

After he was returned to the institution, he dropped 20 feet from a second floor window in his second try to escape. Guards saw him and started to give chase. Frioni dashed from behind an auto into the path of a truck on the highway and was crushed.

Peron Quits As Chief Of Revolution

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 15 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron declared today the Peronista revolution has ended and he is stepping down "as chief of the revolution to become the president of all Argentines, friends and foes." He implied their life will be free.

In a speech to Peronista party congressmen in the Government House, Peron said: "The Peronista revolution has completed its objectives. . . . Now begins a new era of a constitutional character without revolutions because the permanent state of the country cannot be revolutionary."

Peron burst into the political spotlight as an army colonel after the June 1943 revolution and was the behind-the-scenes power under three presidents before the 1946 elections in which he became the constitutional president.

Gilbert Tech Alumni Plans For Reunion

GILBERT — The second annual reunion and banquet of former students of the Polytechnic Institute which operated here for many years will be held from 4 to 9 p. m. July 22.

The meal will be served at 6:30 p. m. in the old "Poly" building by the Women's Guild of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

There will be informal talks, special music and plenty of opportunity for renewing acquaintances.

Former Actress Murdered; Police Seek Slayer, Motive

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Homicide detectives today sought some clue to a slayer who invaded a Times Square hotel room and strangled a graying actress and wardrobe mistress.

Robbery apparently was not a motive in the murder of 58-year-old Adlyn Woodington, whose body was discovered yesterday. At least her hotel room had not been ransacked.

The woman had been beaten so cruelly that her jaw was fractured and several teeth broken. She also had been stabbed, apparently with a pair of small scissors that lay on the floor.

However, an autopsy today established strangulation as the cause of death. The post mortem examination revealed no evidence of rape.

Fingerprints Found

Two sets of bloody fingerprints in a hall closet were being checked by police.

Miss Woodington had appeared on the stage in 45 states, apparently.

Confession In Slaying Repudiated

SIoux CITY, Iowa, July 15 (AP)—Police and the FBI today ruled out an Iowa farmhand as the killer of 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis of Sioux City and continued rounding up other persons for questioning.

Audrey Brandt, 42, La Porte City, was eliminated after he admitted, and then repudiated his statement, that he kidnapped the girl Sunday night. Her body was found across the Missouri River from here in Nebraska the next day.

"I got all riled up," Brandt said today. "One thing just led to another," he said in explaining why he clung to a story of raping and beating the child.

"Well, I told them a bunch of lies all right."

In Missouri July 10

In a statement, the FBI said that Brandt was in Salisbury, Mo., on a carnival from July 10 to 12. The Davis girl was taken from her crib the night of July 10.

Brandt, held since Wednesday in Joplin, Mo., where he was picked up after an unidentified truck driver told police he had given a ride to a hitch-hiker who resembled the description of the kidnaper-slayer, was charged with vagrancy.

The FBI said Brandt will be charged with making false statements. His case has been turned over to the U.S. attorney's office in Kansas City. The charge carries a maximum penalty of up to $10,000 fine and not more than five years in prison.

Sioux City Police Chief James O'Keefe said he wasn't surprised that Brandt reversed his story.

Recalls Futility

Eisenhower said futility has dogged international conferences in the recent past because of mutual mistrust, because of misuse of the meetings as propaganda sounding boards.

Then, more earnestly than ever, he declared:

"I say to you; If we can change the spirit in which these conferences are conducted, we will have taken the greatest step toward peace, toward future prosperity and tranquility that has ever been taken in all the history of mankind."

Ike Visits Sen. Johnson In Hospital

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower visited Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, for 15 minutes at Bethesda Naval Hospital today. Johnson is recovering from a heart attack suffered July 2.

Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, said the senator's office reported Johnson probably would be in the hospital another month. He is expected to stay still another month here before going to his ranch in Texas.

It was understood the President and Johnson not only talked about the latter's progress toward recovery but also about the Big Four Geneva meeting for which the President leaves tonight.

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, chief White House physician, accompanied the President on his visit to Johnson.

NPIDC Adopts Plan To Attract New Industries

HAZLETON, Pa., July 15 (AP)—The Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Council today adopted a three-point program to speed up the influx of industries to the hard coal region.

The board of directors adopted a report by Frank Mueller, Pottsville, vice president of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., which Mueller described as "community action" to "stimulate the development." The three points call for:

Immediate development of industrial sites; raising of industrial funds and construction of industrial plants in shell form;

Development of industrial prospects; development of positive community attitude and appearance and a co-ordinated labor program.

Completion of shell buildings so they can be adapted to specific industrial property.

Under the program, Mueller said, the region will be divided into six areas with a coordinated plan for each area including a series of meetings.

United Fund Drive Opens In Barrett

CRESKO — Barrett Township kicked off its 1955 "United Fund" drive yesterday.

The drive extends through August 15. A $7,350 goal has been set for the campaign.

Officially the fund drive got its kick-off at a dinner Thursday night in Canadensis. At the dinner officials emphasized that "this is the only drive to be held in the Barrett area this year."

Herbert Lorenz, Barrett Welfare Fund president, told workers and officers at the dinner meeting that "no one is obligated to give or work for any other drive during the year." The United drive should take care of all solicitations in the area, Lorenz said.

Next Meeting July 21

"There is one thing we must bear in mind—there is a job that has to be done this year, due to the United fund program," Lorenz told workers.

July 21 was set as the date for the next meeting between workers, their captains and officials of the organization sponsoring the drive. Report meetings will be held throughout the month of the drive, Lorenz said.

Joseph Vogt is campaign chairman for 1955.

More Vaccine Released To Foundation

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Another boost for the polio vaccination program—the third in a week—was given today with announcement by the Public Health Service of the release of 440,000 additional "shots" of vaccine.

The newly released vaccine, produced by the Pitman-Moore Co. of Zionsville, Ind., brought to 2,998,000 shots the amount released since revised testing and production standards were adopted on May 26.

Prior to that, approximately 9,000,000 shots had been made available for use since the beginning of the vaccination program on April 12.

Work Stoppage Terminates At Ronson Plant

RONSON CORP. workers went back to their jobs yesterday.

Thus ended a half-day work stoppage which union business agent Emerson Stanton said was unsanctioned.

About 130 workers were involved in the stoppage. They left their jobs at the Spruce St. and Henry St. plants Thursday afternoon.

Stanton said the cause of the stoppage was worker reaction to a new set of company rules which prohibited smoking during working hours and curtail other "privileges."

Stanton said last night the stoppage was participated in only by a minority group of the union's membership. A meeting between union representatives and company spokesmen has been set for next Wednesday, he said. At that time a full discussion will be made of the incident, he said.

News of the World in Pictures

KEYED UP—Film star Tyrone Power and his daughters, Romina, 3 (left), and Taryn, 1, arrive in New York where he'll start filming the life story of pianist Eddie Duchin.

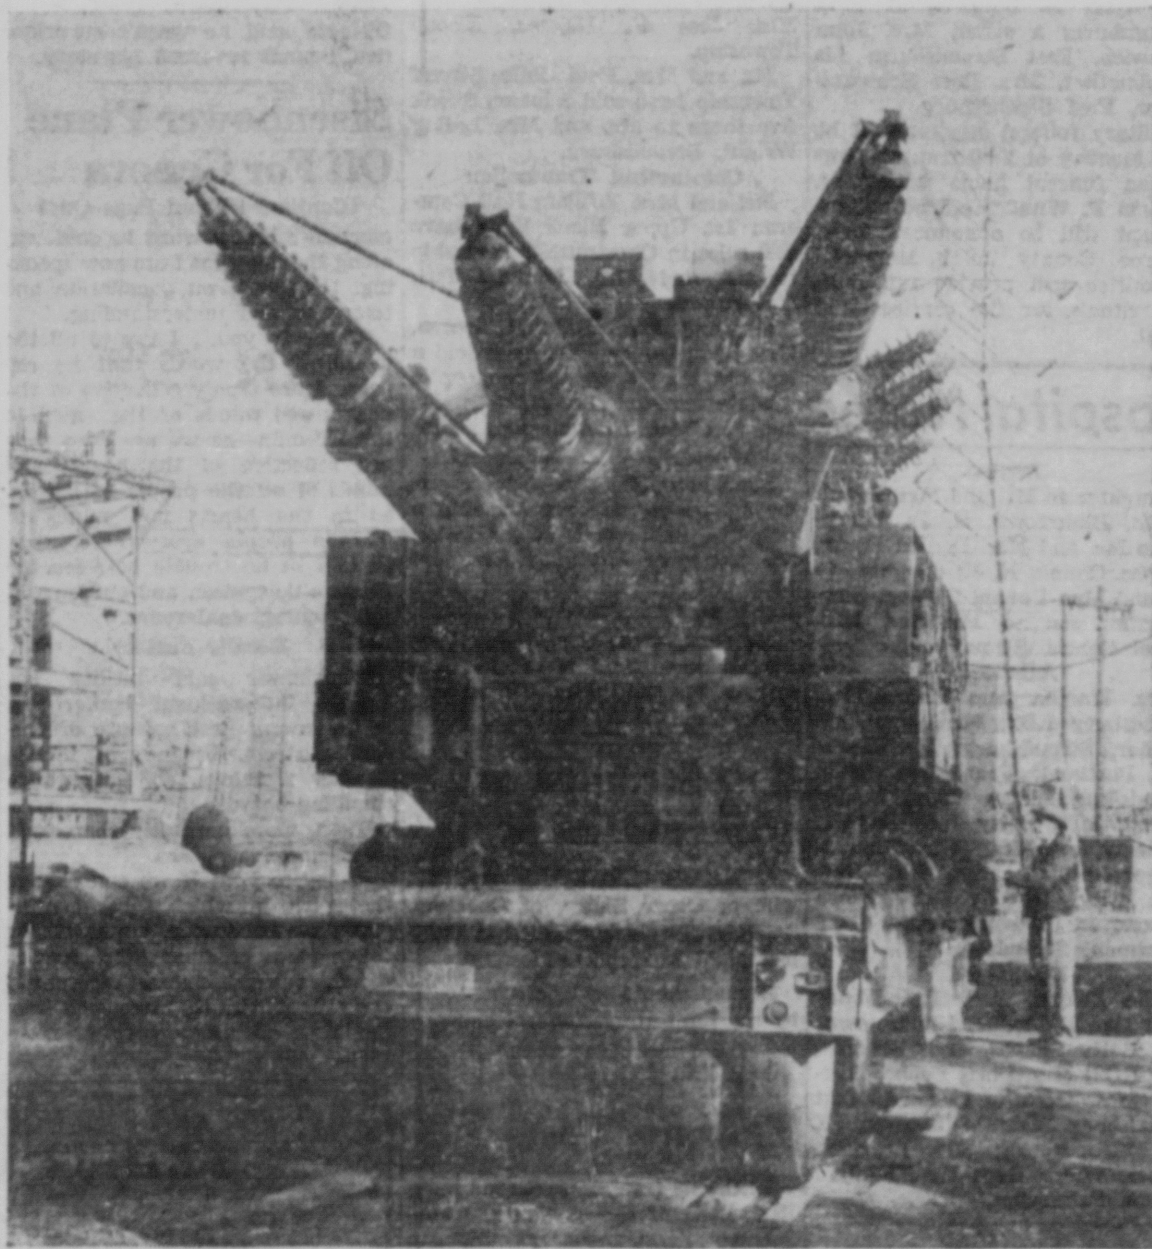

NEW KIND OF DRIVE-IN—The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad's train-ferry, the City of Midland, shows that she can carry more autos than ever before through use of a new loading ramp to upper deck. She carries 45 autos on the upper deck plus a cargo of freight cars below. She makes two daily round trips between Manitowoc, Wis., and Ludington, Mich.

IS THAT MAGGIE?—If you're a movie fan, you will probably remember little Margaret O'Brien, the child star as she was at seven years old (top), but take a look at her now (bottom). Maggie is now an attractive lady of 18 and, at that age, is beginning her adult acting career.

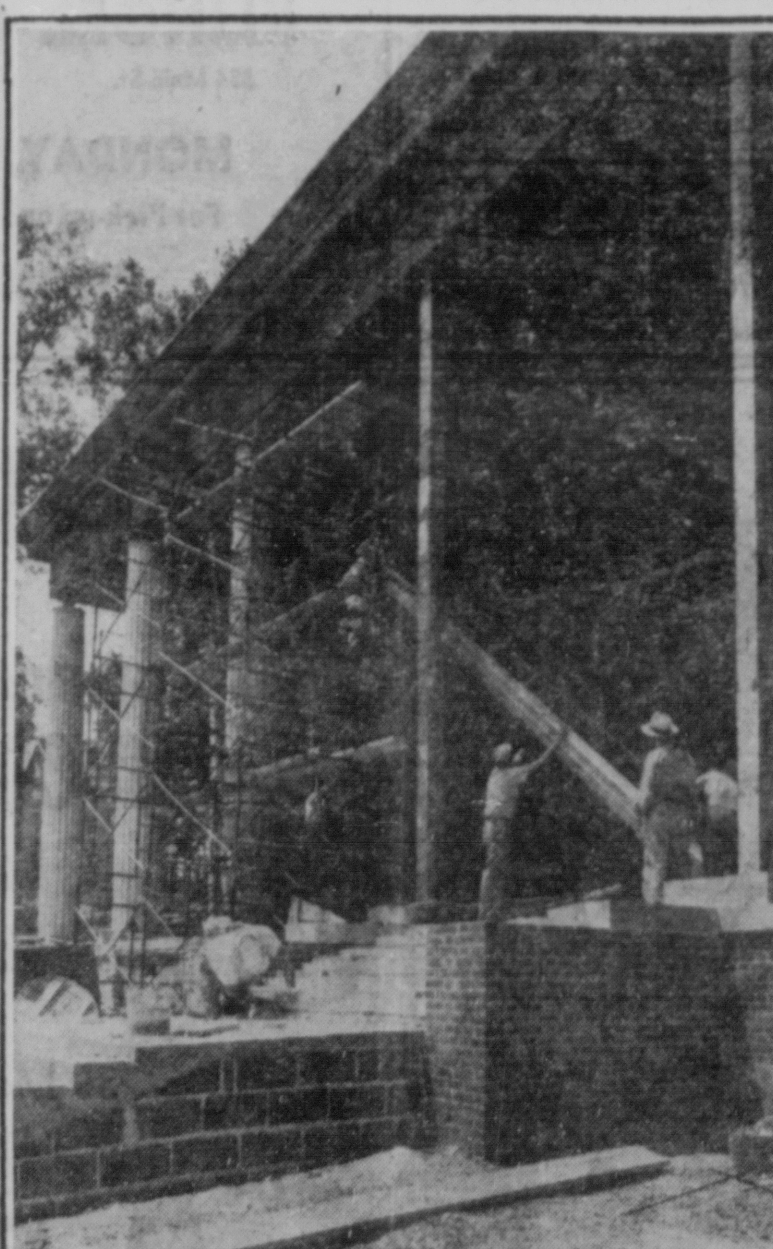

IN COLD STORAGE—This is a dirty trick to play on you if you're sweltering right now, but you might like to know that Bill Michalak is just coming out of an aircraft testing plant where temperature plunges to 90° below. Plant is at Johnson City, N. Y.

FOR FRONTLINE DUTY—It looks like an anti-aircraft battery, but it's just a giant transformer designed to substitute for other transformers when emergencies occur at Louisville, Ky., plant. The substation could deliver the electrical needs for a city of 60,000.

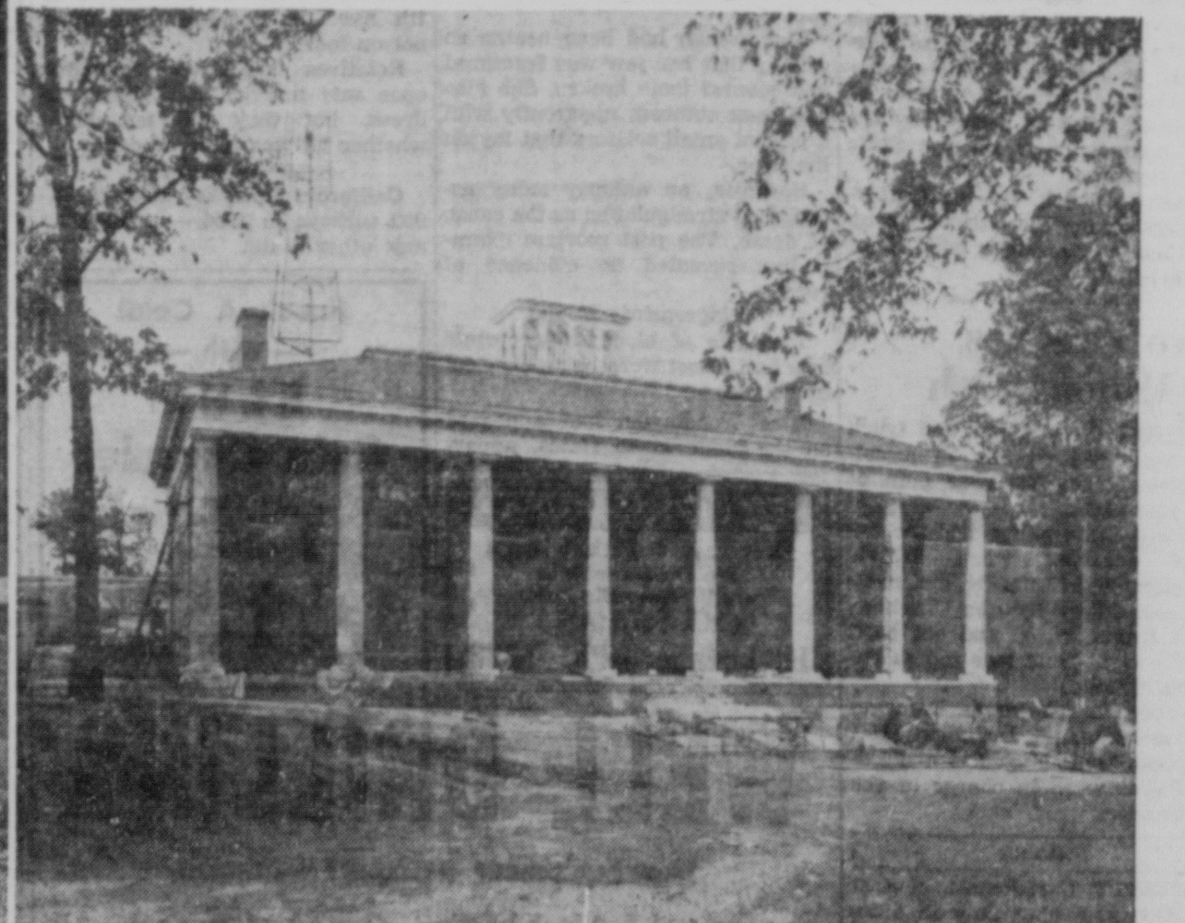

A FLIGHT FOR FUN—Members of the New York police department share an airplane ride with these young guests at their annual outing for some 8,500 orphaned and crippled children at amusement park in Palisades, N. J. Youngsters came from more than 35 orphanages and child-caring institutions in and around New York City.

NEW MEETS THE OLD

SITUATED AMID century-old trees on an historic hilltop in Atlanta, Ga., is one of the South's largest radio and television centers, station WSB. The striking feature of this center, however, is that it blends into the architecture of the countryside. The two-story center-hallway Georgian mansion is being converted to the exacting requirement of an efficient communications center. The administrative wing has a row of eight stately fluted columns flanked on side by terraced gardens and on the other by an outdoor TV studio. It's a successful blending of modern and Old South.

With the columns in place at the south facade, the center will be opened this fall.

New President Selected By Four-County Firemen

FRANKLIN E. Andreas, of Palmerton, has been elected president of the Four County Firemen's Assn. to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Samok, also of Palmerton. Samok was chosen at the annual convention held at Stroudsburg June 17.

The election took place at a meeting of the executive committee and trustees held at the West End Fire Co., Palmerton, this week. A. F. Everitt, chairman of the executive committee, presided.

Mr. Andreas is president of the West End Fire Co. and is active in community affairs in addition to those in fire circles.

Samok resigned for lack of time to devote to the association responsibilities. He conducts a number of fire training schools in the area, in addition to many other activities.

Also in attendance at the meeting were J. Allison Everitt, association secretary, and Archie S. Rundle, chairman of the Stroudsburg convention committee.

Plan Convention
Palmerton firemen are already busy planning for the 59th annual convention to be held there in June, 1956. Cooperation of the Stroudsburg convention leaders was assured.

The new president named the following committee members at the meeting:

Executive committee — A. F. Everitt, Stroudsburg; Edward Weaver, Jim Thorpe; John I. Correll, Bangor; O. A. Greensweig, Wind Gap; Clarence Stem, Wilson Borough; G. J. Talotta, Cementon; and Stanley R. Woodring, Nazareth. (All reappointed.)

Law and Legislation — Michael Krell, Lansford; Theodore Phillips, Bethlehem; Charles Stoneback, Allentown.

Credentials — Archie S. Rundle, Stroudsburg; Artemus Angney, Emmaus; Raymond Rodgers, Northampton.

Exhibits — Clarence Marcks, Allentown; Norman R. Schneek, Lehigh; Thomas Shanfelt, Jim Thorpe.

Accounts — Corvin Solt, Lehigh; Charles E. Benfield, Allentown; Charles L. Frank, Stroudsburg.

Transportation
Transportation — F. Jay Snover, East Stroudsburg; Carlyle Huffman, Marshall's Creek; Wardell Megargel, Mount Pocono.

Publication — Joseph Ludwig, Fullerton; Millard A. Marsh, Stroudsburg; Nicholas Lucia, Palmerton.

Topics — Clarence Strunk, East Stroudsburg; Edwin Klingman, Cementon; George Samok, Palmerton; Irvin J. Metz, Bath.

Statistics — George J. Miller, Coplay; John Klebscheldel, Hokenauqua; Peter Buhay, Palmerton.

Tentative arrangements were made for a reorganization meeting at Palmerton in the fall, exact date to be announced.

The trustees follow: Wilbur Noll, one year, Lehigh; Cornelius, L. Gillespie, two years, Jim Thorpe; John D. Thies, three years, Hokenauqua; Earl Werkheiser, four years, Wilson Borough; and Roland S. R. Walker, five years, Catawauqua.

President To Join In Geneva Prayer

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 15 — President and Mrs. Eisenhower will join in prayer for the success of the Big Four summit conference at divine services at the American Church in Geneva Sunday morning.

The President is expected in Geneva in the presidential plane at 8 p.m. (3 p.m. EDT) Saturday for the conference of heads of government opening Monday.

Press secretary James Hagerty said the President planned to attend an American Church service at 9:30 a.m. to be conducted by the Rev. Gerald B. O'Grady, newly appointed American chaplain in Geneva.

The chaplain said he would offer a prayer for the success of the Big Four conference.

Life Threatened

PITTSBURGH, July 15 — Three men under indictment for defrauding the Federal Housing Administration pleaded guilty today in U.S. District Court. One, John Myers, reported his life had been threatened.

BERNARD M. BARUCH, wearing a new straw hat, leaves the White House after he had conferred with President Eisenhower. The 85-year-old New York financier and adviser to Presidents told reporters that the Big Four Conference at Geneva will have an opportunity to decide whether the civilized world will "go forward or back."

Firemen Map Carnival Plans At Bushkill

BUSHKILL — Reports on plans for the annual carnival highlighted this week's meeting of the Bushkill Fire Co.

John K. Britton, general chairman, reported for the co-chairman headed by Chester Brish, Ralph DeWitt, Lawrence Dickson, Harry Halterman, Fred Adlee, George Ledlee and Frank Messerle. The refreshment stand which will feature food, drinks, pies and cakes will be under the supervision of Kimmie Garris. The children's activities will be directed by Mrs. William Laubner.

Nightly ground prizes will be a feature and the grand prize will be a 21 inch table model television set. R. G. Turn Jr. will conduct one of the major nightly activities. Lawrence DePue, Richard DePue and Martin Mendler are members of this committee.

Other workers are being contacted and committees being formed. More information will be given in September on the purchase of fire equipment. Two fires were reported during the past month, one on Sugar Mountain and one along the Delaware river. Both were grass fires.

President Frank Messerle said members will be notified of special committee meetings. The next regular meeting will be on Aug. 1.

Khrushchev Reacts In Fashion Understood By West, Is Russia's Nonsecret Weapon

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

This fellow Khrushchev is rapidly becoming one of Soviet Russia's greatest nonsecret weapons.

You can't get away from it. For the first time in years they have a man who reacts within a pattern conceivable to the Anglo-Saxon mind.

He stands around at parties talking to reporters, and so does his personally selected Premier Bulganin, who never did so before.

Door Was Open

The Russian statement of aims for Geneva, despite some distortions about the origins of the cold war, might well have been issued by the American State Department. It even avoids the usual Communist dialectics. No such conciliatory statement has come out of Moscow since the Soviet was formed.

Sorrowfully, it must be admitted that the words cannot be relied upon. The statement says, within the context of one of its most conciliatory passages:

"Why should the differences in the social and state structure prevent the peoples from living in peace, respecting each other, developing advantageous trade and cultural relations?"

At this point the door was open, but the one great sentence was omitted. The Soviet Union could have promised that, if the world would not insist upon exporting democracy and capitalism to her, she would desist from her effort to export communism. An additional offer to guarantee the religious and civil rights of her own citizens could have completed the deal, reducing communism to an economic theory rather than a religion, and the Geneva conference would hardly be needed.

Get Smart Too Late

That far Khrushchev - Bulganin & Co. would not go. But they do sound more like people who are placing the good of Russia ahead of the promotion of an ideology, which Foster Dulles once said might happen.

And even if their words are only chicanery, designed to relax Western watchfulness and give them time to promote the ultimate objectives of communism, they still represent a smartness which could well have been used to Russia's advantage before, instead of after, she forced the rest of the world to rearm.

Didn't Forget

At Belgrade, when reporters complained about being barred from Russia, Khrushchev said he'd fix it and, to everybody's surprise, he didn't forget about it.

Thursday, when pressed too hard at a party about why he was going to Geneva when he'd already said he could trust Bulganin to handle that job, he said what was important was whether they could do some good, not why he was going. Then he backed off with an affable expression of fear that if he kept talking to them he was going to miss a drink.

That kind of thing—frankness as far as a public official feels that he can be frank, then graceful withdrawal, is understood by newsmen everywhere. To get it in Moscow, where public officials have so long taken on the personal aspects of chips off the monolithic state itself, nearly bowls them off their feet.

Akers Family Holds Election At Reunion

NEWFOUNDLAND—Reorganization of the annual reunion of the Akers family, one of this region's pioneer clans, was accomplished at a recent meeting in Nay Aug park, Scranton.

History records the first settler in the valley now known as Newfoundland as Denman Coe. His wife was an Akers, who with her brother had moved into the area from Stroudsburg and were Newfoundland's second family.

Howard Akers, formerly of Angels, was named president of the organization. Vice president is Thomas Akers, secretary Marvin Akers and treasurer Kenneth Akers, both of Greentown.

Attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Erskin Howey, Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grosdides, Shirley Grosdides, Plainsville; Elizabeth Bath, Factoryville; Mrs. Ethel Akers, Mr. and Mrs. James Wodjick, Mary Jane Wodjick, Pittston; Mrs. John Gabel, Plains; Mr. and Mrs. David Akers, Pateron, N. J.; Mrs. Ruth Heller, Robert Heller, Waymart.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Akers, Sidney Akers, East Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Edith Akers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Akers, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Akers, Perkaskie; Mrs. Daisy Akers, Newfoundland; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Akers, Honesdale; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krommer, Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, Dunmore; Bernice Brunner, Royersford; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Akers, Ellis Akers, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Akers, Susan Akers, all of Greentown.

Canada Showing Furs From U.S.

OTTAWA, July 15 (AP)—Shades of Canada's pioneer fur trappers; Douglas Fleming, a Progressive Conservative member of Parliament, reports furs imported from the United States were shown as Canadian products at a recent European trade fair.

Fleming didn't name the fair, but said the matter was brought to the trade department's attention two months ago and the imports were dropped from the exhibit.

Eucharistic Congress To Open Tuesday

RIO DE JANEIRO July 15 (U)—Pilgrims from five continents are converging here for the 36th International Eucharistic Congress of the Roman Catholic Church which opens Tuesday.

Two million persons, including 20,000 from foreign lands, are expected to participate in the 8,000 Masses which will be celebrated in the five days of the Congress and the two days of preliminary religious services.

The Congress, fourth to be held in the Western Hemisphere and the second in South America, is being attended by a party of 88 clergymen and laymen from the United States who traveled on the liner Del Sud by way of Buenos Aires. Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans led the party.

Argentina Discussion

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, traveling separately, will celebrate the Mass for men at midnight on Friday after a solemn procession.

The troubles between the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Argentina and the regime of President Juan D. Peron are expected to be examined during the Congress. The delegation from the Vatican includes Msgr. Antonio Samore, head of the first section of the secretariat of state for extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs, who, it has been reported, may proceed to Buenos Aires after the Congress to study the church's position there. Also in the party from the Vatican are two expelled Argentine prelates.

Peron, who was excommunicated by the Vatican on June 16, the day a revolt broke out in Buenos Aires, is reported to have given permission for the two expelled prelates to return, and there have been other signs of an effort to patch up a state-church truce.

Started In 1881

Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, primate of Argentina, canceled plans to attend the Congress. The cardinal, who is ailing, lost his ceremonial vestments in the Episcopal Palace which was set afire by a mob on the night of the revolt.

One of the richest and most colorful religious manifestations in the world, the International Eucharistic Congress had its beginning in Lille, France, in 1881. It is designed to emphasize the importance of the Eucharist, or the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, in the daily lives of men.

Suicide Attempt Blamed On TV

NOTTINGHAM, England, July 15 (U)—Bill Lavender, 38, truck driver, blames his suicide try on television. He told a magistrate neighbors thronged in to watch so "I hardly had room to move in my own home" and his wife threatened to leave him after he threw them out. He slashed at his throat with a razor. He was put on probation for a year.

Crying Towel More Appropriate

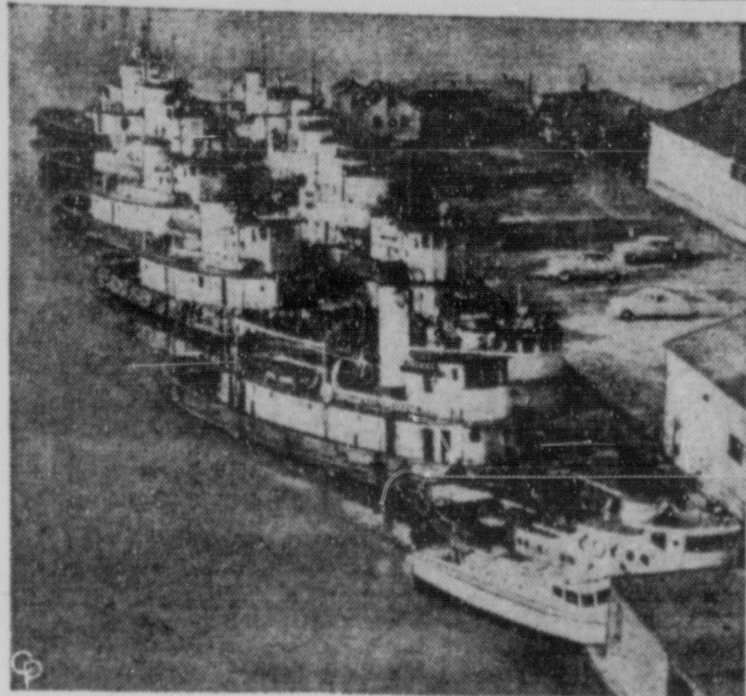

NEW YORK, July 15 (U)—Charles L. Patterson, chairman of the New York Transit Authority, overruled a suggestion that a new subway station serving the Aqueduct race track have a pari-mutuel betting window in its change booth. Patterson said his own experience at the tracks made him feel that a "crying towel" vending machine would be more appropriate.

Mine-Flood-Aid Measure Signed By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 15 (U)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill authorizing $4 million dollars in federal aid to combat flooding of Pennsylvania's hard coal mines.

An immediate try this session of Congress for a two million dollar appropriation to help pay for the program was promised by Rep. Flood (D-Pa.), author of the authorization measure.

Flood said he believes the chances are fair for obtaining two million dollars at this session.

But in any event, he told a reporter, he feels the proposed two-year program is assured.

"I have assured Gov. Leader and Joseph Kennedy, secretary of the State Bureau of Mines, that it will be all right to go ahead with planning."

Flood said he has been in touch with the White House and has been assured the President will ask this session of Congress for money to get the program started.

The bill signed by the President authorizes the Interior Department to pay Pennsylvania up to $4 million dollars. The state is to put up the same amount and to administer the program.

The program is to include the pumping of excess water from abandoned mines, construction of conduits to carry surface water away from mines, filling excavations and other water collecting depressions, and construction of underground barriers to stop some subterranean flow.

Flood estimated the program would employ nearly 3,000 men now without work.

The program, he added, will not contribute to the danger of surface settlement as many persons seem to fear.

Legion Fair Preparations Progressing

COMMANDER Harold Burch of George N. Kemp Post 346, American Legion, East Stroudsburg, reported last night that preparations for the Tri-State Fair next month are progressing under the direction of Manager Joe Sherman.

Many business houses are purchasing exhibition space and in the fun area there will be a motorized carnival carrying 20 rides and ten shows. Planned attractions in front of the grandstand include a rodeo, hillbilly night, thrill show, and auto racing. There will be two free matinees for children, Tuesday, Aug. 9 and Friday, Aug. 12.

The crowning event of the fair will be the election of Miss Legion. The winner will receive an all-expense-paid trip to Cuba; runner-up a diamond studded watch, third, fourth, fifth and sixth places diamond rings. Any young woman entering the contest who is made eligible will receive a gift of some kind. The most popular girl on the basis of votes cast, will be crowned Miss Legion on Saturday, Aug. 13 at 11:30 p.m.

Many dignitaries have been invited to attend the Tri-State Fair

MR. AND MRS. John Rusweiler who are today celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

Open House Today For Anniversary

Bangor—Mr. and Mrs. John Rusweiler, 221 S. Third St., Bangor will observe their 50th wedding anniversary today. The occasion will be celebrated on Saturday with open house at their home from 2 to 8 p.m.

The couple was married July 15, 1905 at the home of Rusweiler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rusweiler, 19 S. Third St., Bangor by the late Rev. J. M. Schlaughauf, then pastor of Salem Evangelical Church.

Mr. Rusweiler was born in Paradise Valley, Monroe County, and moved to Bangor at the age of three. He worked for the Flory Mfg. Co., Bangor for 30 years and when that firm discontinued operation, he went to work for Tredwell Engineering Co., Easton. He retired as a machinist eight years ago after being employed by the Easton firm for 20 years.

Mrs. Rusweiler, the former Anna Clewell, was born in Lower Saucon Township, daughter of the late Oliver and Ida Clewell. Her father died last November at the age of 92. She moved to Bangor with her family at an early age. She recently had been employed by Well Made Novelty Co., Bangor.

Both are members of Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church, Bangor. He is an honorary member and past president of the Church's Official Board and formerly was a steward, Sunday School superintendent and class leader.

The couple has three children, Martha Rusweiler, Easton; Verle, wife of Victor Ruth, Bangor; and Arlington, Blairstown, N. J. There also are 11 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's a good thing the news is cheerful because I'm not particularly. However, with the Merrie Friends having a picnic next week and the Pollyannas a hot dog roast, you feel a little as if you're not doing your part if you complain.

But having had a tantalizing sample of what summer weather in the Poconos could be with blue skies and a light feeling to the air, it was sort of provoking to have the old wet blanket settle down again, in time to complicate the weekend shopping and make a chore of every necessary movement.

The youngsters, lugging their prizes and joys home from the doll parade, didn't seem to be suffering. However, it's a good thing dolls don't get heat rash because some of them were wrapped up pretty snug.

It was a good night for the ice cream festival for the Eastern Star, and nobody seemed this time to mind the chore of dipping down into the cold containers, to dish the ice cream. The frozen food compartments in the food stores were pretty popular places, too, last night.

Well, this is a weekend without a wedding—at least as far as advance announcements go—so maybe a nice cool rain in the morning would be helpful. Clearing in time for the picnics, of course.

Don't know what the weather was like in Paris on Thursday, but I'll tell you who might know—Jeannette Nitrauer, who expected to be in Paris on Bastille Day. Matter of fact we could keep track of affairs all over Europe if our local travelers would keep us posted: Janice Williams in Germany, and Julia Sieg and her party on the move.

Which is just what I don't want to do right now—move, that is.

Fidelia Class Plans Corn, Dog Roast For Families

The covered dish supper of the Fidelia Class was held at the home of Mrs. Edwin Buck with Mrs. George Stabenow as co-hostess.

Plans were made for the August corn and dog roast for members and their families to be held at the playground Aug. 3rd at 6 o'clock. The Committee consists of Mrs. Daniel Lyons, Mrs. Russell Renninger, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Thomas Knepp, Mrs. George Stabenow, Mrs. George Stabenow will have charge of the games for the children.

The communion committee for the first Sunday in August is as follows: Mrs. Kenneth Meixell, Mrs. Russell Renninger, Mrs. Thomas Knepp and Mrs. George Miller.

The following attended the meeting Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Joseph Barnes, Mrs. Thomas Knepp, Mrs. Miles Green, Mrs. Russell Renninger, Mrs. Daniel Lyons, Mrs. George Stabenow and Mrs. Edwin Buck.

Variety Adds Spice To Summer's Cooling Punches

With hot, humid weather back for another weekend, the family seems to be taking on as much liquid refreshments as camels after reaching the oasis. Fortunately, there are new additions to summer punches. Packaged fresh orange juice and packaged fresh grape juice offer wonderful bases for cool, refreshing and somewhat different punches. Different touches can be added to old favorites, too.

Spiced Version

Then there is that perennial favorite, iced coffee. And here is a sophisticated, spiced version of it for that special occasion. To 6 c. double-strength, freshly made hot coffee, add 5 in. of stick cinnamon and 20 whole cloves. Hold just under the boiling point for 5 min. Strain. Pour over cracked ice and serve with sugar and cream as desired.

A spiced syrup with an orange juice base is an excellent stand-by to be kept handy in the refrigerator and used with orange juice and other fruit juices to make cooling beverages.

Ground Ginger

To make the spiced syrup, just boil together 1 c. sugar, a spice bag containing 1/2 tsp. each ground cloves, and ground ginger and 1 1/3 c. boiling water.

The syrup will keep indefinitely under refrigeration, by the way. The tantalizing aroma and flavor of cloves adds something different to that old summer standby, lemonade. The syrup may be prepared in advance and refrigerated indefinitely.

Mix 1 pint water, 1 1/2 c. lemon juice, 2 tsp. whole cloves and 2 c. sugar. Bring slowly to boiling point then boil for 2 min.

Add Mint

To prepare lemonade, use 3 tbs. of this mixture to each tumbler, filling it up with water and ice. Mint or lemon slices may be added for look and service.

Spiced milk is something else that is a bit different. It is also something that youngsters enjoy.

Heat 2 c. sweet milk but do not let it boil. Add 2 tsp. sugar, 1/8 tsp. dash of salt, and 1/8 tsp. each nutmeg and cinnamon. Beat until spices are blended with the milk.

Miss Burke is a sophomore at Missouri University. Mr. Hummel is serving aboard the USS Helena CA 75, and is stationed at Long Beach, California.

Married Couples Advise Longer Engagements

AP Newsfeatures Springfield, Ohio—What do married people think of marriage?

A church poll brought answers from 75 couples, who returned the confidential questionnaires unsigned to their pastors. The couples were chosen at random from among the congregations of seven Congregational, Christian Churches in Clark County.

The couples ranged in age from 19 to 83 years, with an average age of 43. They had been married for periods from five months to 62 years, with an average of 18 years.

Asked how long an ideal engagement would be, the men replied about 14 months, the women about 11 months. This was longer than the nine-month period recommended by more than 100 single young people in a similar poll last spring.

In answer to a question of whether or not their marriage was a happy one, all said "yes" with the exception of one woman. She reported she had not yet made up her mind.

The best age for a man to marry averaged out at about 24 and for a woman, 21. Last year the young people set it at two years earlier.

Half the husbands queried had serious objections to their wives' smoking. Wives' objections to their husbands' use of tobacco was about the same. But about two-thirds of both men and women would object to their partners' drinking, even moderately. "How much should a man make to be married?"

Answers to that question by both men and women averaged out the same to the dollar—$77

Even with three prizes in each group, there were many worthy contestants not included in the list of prizewinners. However, the small mothers of losers as well as winners were consoled with free ice cream and free balloons, the gifts of the Borough of Stroudsburg which maintains the playground for its children.

Most elaborate items in the parade were the floats, one of which arrived by taxi in order to appear unruffled and unwinded. The first prize in the float division went to Nancy Strunk; second to Sherrie Steinmetz; third to Karen Katz; and honorable mention to Judy Henry and Kathy Phillips.

The title of prettiest doll in the show was shared by Virginia Strickler and Nancy Altomose's entries. Martha Baird and Linda Kostna's dolls shared honors for second prettiest; and Barbara Hiller, Teresa Keller, Vicki Mans, Sally Shanley and in a four-way tie for third, Honorable mentions among Georgia Sue Smolenyak, Amy Carol Young, Mary Sue Teetzel, Colleen Lessig, Georgia Marie Emanuel, Katherine Ann Roman, and Sharon Winters.

Most original doll title went to Diane Coogan's entry with Lynn Kreneke's second; Marie Torzillo, third; and Marlene Yutz, Kathleen McConnell, honorable mention.

There was less room for debate in some classifications. For instance the oldest doll was brought by Karen Houser, with the next oldest by Cathy Starnier and the third oldest by Candy Kohn.

Largest doll was brought by Bonnie Wertheimer with a whole group of dolls the same size sharing honorable mentions. They were the dolls of Diane Rowlands, Jean Drake, Jane Torzillo, Sharon Edinger, Elaine Kaufman, Linda Starnier, and Bettina Catalano.

There was no argument about the smallest doll in the show, either. It was brought by Peggy Delk, with Lois Millazzo, and Jeanette Miller, second; Bonnie Brands, third; and Gloria Lutzen and Abbie Schulman, honorable mention.

The funniest doll division brought out some unusual entries with Vicky Bolcar and Barbara Chester sharing honors for first.

Bride dolls, too, faced stiff competition with Paulette Ott winning first; Georgia Altomose, second; Pat Granville, third; and Mildred Winters and Bonnie Edinger, honorable mention.

The largest family of dolls was brought by Wanda Ralph with Susie Stevens placing second.

The Stuffed doll category was won by Jean Eyer's entry with Curtene Dietrick, second; Rosemary Staples, third; and Mary Rowlands, Susie Coogan, and Gary Meixell winning honorable mentions.

There were also prizes awarded in the foreign doll division, but the names of the prizewinners were not available last night. They will be announced later.

A SMALL PATIENT in Detroit's Ford hospital plays with a couple of snowy friends who visit him in their rolling rabbit cart.

New Look For Hospitals Aims To Make Stay Pleasant

By Norman Sklarewitz
Central Press Correspondent

Chicago—You may not ever look forward to going to the hospital, but the time may soon come when patients won't mind their stay. The idea being advanced now is to make hospitals as close to hotels as possible.

This isn't as far-fetched as some think, either. Already dozens of first-rate hospitals across the country have many of the features of some resort hostelry.

Much of the credit for this thinking goes to Colin Campbell McLean, a consultant on hospital decoration. He has invented or designed a variety of innovations intended to make patients as comfortable and happy as possible.

Colorful floors and walls, bright drapes, special beds and dressers and even wall-to-wall carpeting are installed as part of McLean's theory that a patient is a guest in a hospital, not an inmate of some institution.

"For too long now," he says, "patients have been considered as captives without feelings. That's rapidly passing out, now."

Blood donors in the Chicago Children's hospital, for example, get a surprise when they lie down on the hospital cot. On the ceiling is a bright pictorial map of the world.

Somber gray or sterile white walls are rapidly being replaced by cheerful pastel colors. Such use of color gives patients a lift doctors say, that's as important to their quick recovery as diet and medicine.

Nurseries are pink and blue and drapes give wards and private rooms a home-like appearance. Wallpaper, too, is used but only on one wall—at the head of the bed. (This eliminates the problem of having the patient stare at a pattern all day.)

Children, too, are being given special attention. For the new $24 million Ford hospital in Detroit, McLean designed a rolling rabbit cart. It is a gay yellow, blue and red metal cage on wheels in which a pair of rabbits are kept. The cart is rolled into children's wards giving them an exciting source of fun.

In the Children's hospital in Chicago, a series of special tiles were designed by McLean for the walls along which youngsters are wheeled on their way to the surgery. These show all sorts of animal antics like a dog pushing a sick cat. All the funny animals are going in the same direction as the tykes.

"The pictures take their minds off their own trip and removes much of the apprehension that otherwise builds up on the trip to surgery," doctors explain.

Visitors to the Ford hospital are

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Just "ducky". That the only way can be fittingly describe the new gift wrap paper for little folks now displayed in our Gift Wrap center. Baby ducks with an amusingly tragic expression are shown in white and yellow against a gray background dotted here and there with bright blue. There's something about those ducks that inspires a grin even before the bow is removed from the parcel. This is just one of several newly stocked and exciting wrappings.

Ernie Michelfelder is grinning these days when his co-workers call him "Curly". He's an awfully nice guy, that Ernie, but he just doesn't have the black wavy hair one of his Music Store customers described him as having—he only wishes he had. . . . Which brings up the question of whether or not you've visited our Music Store lately. Even though you're not in a piano or harmonica-purchasing mood, you'll find the displays interesting. I'm sure—and there's always the chance that, as you wander through, Ernie will begin playing some of your favorite melodies on the store organ. You may even hear an impromptu concert by a camper looking for music and doing a run-through with Ernie. One young woman entertained us with "Hard to Get" the other day, and she was good. Really good!

Even locked luggage can present a problem when "drippables" inside pour out their hearts all over the place. That's why travelers will undoubtedly welcome Cotsy's perfumes in the new locked-type atomizers. They cannot spill on one's garments for they're encased in plastic, and are completely sealed until the rubber bulb is swiveled into an open position. At $2 these come filled with a complete line of fragrances: Acceplume, Muse, Asuna, Styx, Meteor, Paris, L'Origan, L'Aimant, and Emeraude. . . .

City also offers a series of delightful Golden Anniversary specials that offer a golden opportunity for thrifty shoppers. Among the items packaged in pairs at 1.50 and 2.00 are dusting powder, toilet water, and stick colognes in a variety of "scents that save you dollars". . . .

Be a "sponger" this summer! That's what we are encouraging housewives and car owners to do with the penny-pinching packages of eight pastel colored cellulose sponges priced at only 15c in our center aisle. One of our saleswomen says she's one in her soap dish to avoid the usual snap dish messiness. Other housewives put them to dozens of varied uses, glorying in the fact that they're so thirsty and just love to lap up spillage. One thing is certain, they're perfectly at home in kitchen, bath, or garage. . . . The idea of doing things for oneself has gone a step further with the introduction of two new packages in our art goods department. Perhaps the biggest news for women is the arrival of a "Ready Knit Pak" containing a pleated skirt ready to wear, and enough yarn to make any type of blouse one desires. The yarn is Heredia Tweed, 93% wool and 7% nylon, and the colors tan, purple, charcoal and henna, with others on order. Spinnerin is the creator of this unusual idea at a moderate price—29.95. . . . The other package contains the necessary materials, and instructions for creating absolutely gorgeous crocheted pouch-type handbags and evening envelopes. The prices are 4.95 and 5.95; while the very same bags completed and on display are 20.00. These are, just as the song says, "Only Beautiful". . . . And while you're in art goods, make it a point to see our closeout of Bernat's Laurelspun yarn at 49c. This has been a regular seller at 69c. There are at least a dozen colors, so this is a perfect occasion for "stocking up" as we "stock down."

Buyers Turn To Motors And Steels

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Buying attention to steels and motors, plus strength in individual issues, combined today to send the stock market higher.

Some gains were quite extensive, and the list as a whole had many gains in the 1 to 3 point area. There were losses to around a point in key divisions, but they weren't concentrated.

The turn upward was accompanied by an expanded volume, and gainers outnumbered losers almost two-to-one.

All week the market has exhibited a high degree of hesitancy, but today a lot of this feeling was dissipated by the market's more vigorous action.

Steels Bolster List

A trio of steel companies reported excellent earnings—Granite City, Allegheny Ludlum and Republic. Their firmness helped the entire steel group.

Motors stepped ahead, and also higher were non-ferrous metal, mail order and merchandising shares, some chemicals, aircrafts, farm implements, railroads, and the tobacco.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 60 cents at $174.50. It was ahead 30 cents yesterday. The industrial component added $1.00, railroads were up 50 cents while utilities remained unchanged.

The list was composed of 1,188 individual issues of which 625 advanced and 320 declined with 51 highs for the year and nine new lows.

Volume expanded to 2,230,000 shares from 1,980,000 shares traded yesterday. That was one of the slower sessions of the year.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 850,000 shares as compared with 680,000 shares traded yesterday.

The bond market was mixed. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were easy.

Mexico Growing

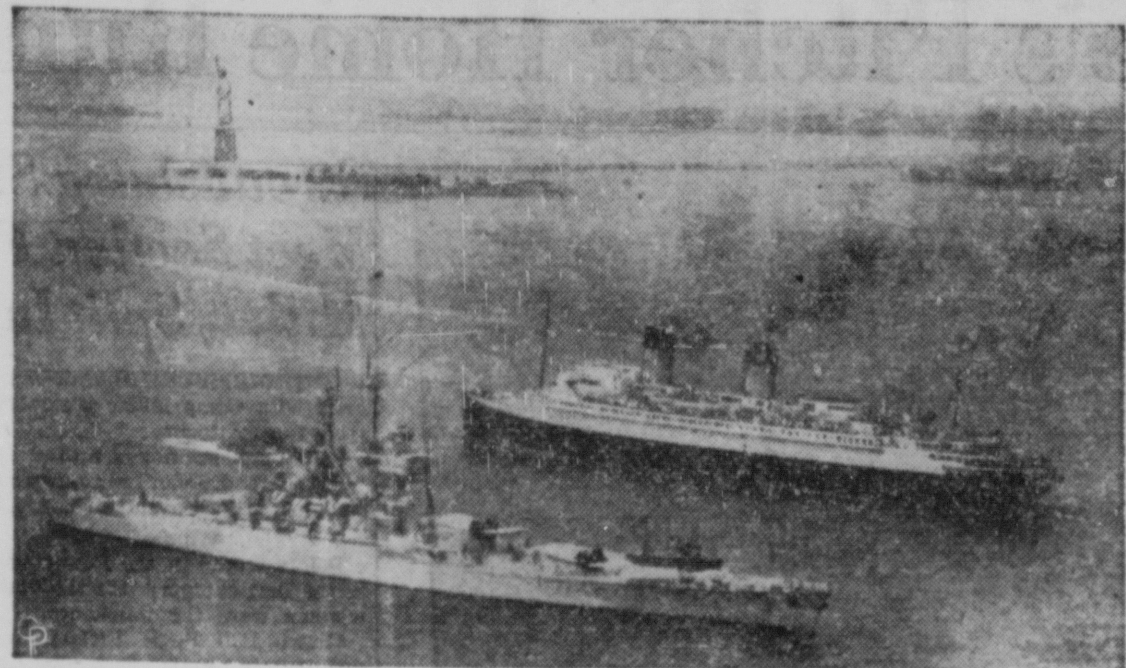

MEXICO CITY, July 15 (AP)—The National Construction Industry Chamber says Mexico has about 180 cities of more than 10,000 population, compared with only 97 in 1940. And construction, it says, is keeping pace with this increase in population.

Pose Difficulties

HUNTINGDON, July 15 (AP)—An alcoholics expert said today that women alcoholics pose special difficulties for the therapist as they suffer "from a deep sense of guilt and worthlessness."

WITH THE STATUE OF LIBERTY in the background, the French battleship Jean Bart passes the outgoing liner Ile de France as it enters New York harbor. The 35,000-ton warship came to the United States in connection with the 175th celebration of the arrival of French troops at Newport, R. I. under Gen. Jean Baptiste Rochambeau to aid Gen. George Washington in the Revolutionary War.

Newcombe Ties National League's Pitcher Home Run Record

Wraps Up His 15th Victory With Sixth

BROOKLYN, July 15 (AP)—Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' strong man, personally wrapped up his 15th victory of the season today with an eight-hit pitching job, a record-equaling homer and three other hits as Brooklyn smashed the St. Louis Cardinals 12-3.

Sixth Clout

Newcombe walloped his sixth homer of the season over the right-field screen to start the eighth inning. That tied a season record for National League pitchers and touched off a six-run inning during which Newk came to bat a second time and rapped out a single to drive in his third run of the game.

Two National League pitchers previously had hit six homers in one season. Hal Schumacher of the Giants did it in 44 games in 1934 and Jim Tobin of the Braves in 47 games in 1942. The major league record for pitchers belongs to Wes Ferrell, who hit nine in 40 games for Cleveland in 1931.

Robinson Hurt

The Brooklyn outburst came after a pre-game mishap had put Jackie Robinson back on the bench. Robinson's weak knee gave way during batting practice and he had to be helped off the field.

Dr. Eugene Zorn, club physician, said that the recurrence of an old injury and that Robinson could expect such mishaps from time to time. He ordered Jackie to rest for two or three days.

The Cardinals used five pitchers in an attempt to halt the Dodgers, but their own inept fielding proved costly in the crucial moments.

N. Y. Archery Champions

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—Johnny Fry of Syracuse and Margaret McLeod of Buffalo won the New York State Archery Association's free style championships at Adelphi College today.

Fry won the men's title for the second straight year with a score of 2,107. Miss McLeod dethroned Laura Wilson of New York with 2,260 points.

Phils Edge Braves

PHILADELPHIA, July 15 (AP)—Marv Blaylock tripled after Willie Jones walked in the eighth inning tonight as the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Milwaukee Braves 1-0 in a tightly pitched ball game. Veteran Murry Dickson limited the Braves to three hits while Blaylock's three-bagger was one of only six hits off Lew Burdette.

Yanks Drive Indians To Third Place

CLEVELAND, July 15 (AP)—Home runs by Eddie Robinson and Irv Noren brought the New York Yankees a 4-3 10-inning victory over the Cleveland Indians today and dropped them to third place.

The Yankees had made only four singles off Early Wynn and were trailing 3-0 when Robinson unloaded his 14th homer of the season in the ninth with one out and two on to tie the score.

Noren's Sixth

Noren clubbed his sixth homer over the centerfield fence in the 10th with two out to provide the winning margin.

Joe Collins led off the ninth with a single. Mickey Mantle walked, Yogi Berra popped to shortstop, then Robinson connected.

The Indians scored two unearned first-inning runs off Bullet Bob Toulough when second baseman Gil McDougall, backing onto the grass for a high pop fly by Al Rosen, let the ball squirt from his hand. Bob Avila, who was on base with a single, and Ferris Fain, who had walked, crossed the plate.

Rosen Belts Lopat

Rosen belted another homer today in the eighth inning off Ed Lopat.

Rain delayed the game for 39 minutes at the middle of the sixth inning.

OVERTURNED PASSENGER cars of the New Haven Railroad's Federal Express are shown after jumping the track and plunging down an embankment in Bridgeport, Conn. The engineer was killed and 24 persons were injured.

Grand Shows Astaire Film

"DADDY LONG LEGS," the lavishly Chinese musical production starring Fred Astaire, opens Sunday at the Grand Theater.

The new version of "Daddy Long Legs" retains the memorable story line of a middle-aged benefactor, played by Astaire, who "adopts" a lonely little orphan girl, but only with the provision she never know his identity.

Leslie Caron, the petite French lassie, is cast in the role of the orphan girl.

New songs by Johnny Mercer, Astaire's own dance creation, the Shufout, several ballet numbers and a story with charm and humor combine to make "Daddy Long Legs" fine entertainment. Co-starring in the cast are Terry Moore, Thelma Ritter, Pert Terry and Fred Clark.

Three Objectors Sentenced For Failure To Work

PHILADELPHIA, July 15 (AP)—Three adherents of Jehovah's Witnesses were each sentenced to 21 months in a federal penitentiary today for failure to work as hospital attendants in lieu of military service.

Those sentenced were Earl W. Dunkelberger, 28; his brother, Lawrence, 26; and their cousin, Ernest R. Dunkelberger, of Alburis, Lehigh County.

Judge Allan K. Grim said the sentences represent the remainder of two-year terms of service set by the draft board.

Slatington Man Wins Scholarship

HARRISBURG, July 15 (AP)—George J. Blank, Slatington, today was awarded the State Council of Education's Nathan C. Schaeffer Memorial Scholarship for the school year 1955-56.

Dr. Ralph C. Swan, acting superintendent of public instruction, said Blank intends to use the $500 scholarship to complete his work for a doctor's degree.

Blank is on the teaching faculty in the Slatington school district.

'No Angels' At Sherman

"WERE NO ANGELS," the Vista Vision presentation at the Sherman Theater starting tomorrow and running through July 20, is based on Albert Husson's hilarious comedy.

Starring Humphrey Bogart, Aldo Ray and Peter Vostinoff, the plot involves a laugh-shaking escape from Devil's Island.

The three escapees admit they are no angels, but have loads of fun getting their wings. This is an amusing tale of three bad men who find crime pays off in a different way.

Antique Auto Show Slated Here July 24

FURTHER details of the antique automobile show to be held here July 24 were announced yesterday by Roswell S. Eddy, of Bethlehem, formerly of Stroudsburg.

The exhibit will take place at the Stroudsburg Playground and will be open to the public without charge.

Antique cars from Lehigh and Northampton Counties, as well as Monroe, will be entered in the meet. Some of the drivers and cars will assemble at the Lake House, Stroudsburg, at 1:30 p.m. and drive to Stroudsburg by way of Cherry Valley and the Long Woods Road. The show will get under way at 2 p.m.

Prizes To Be Given

Prizes will be awarded to the owners of the oldest car, the car coming the greatest distance and the most interesting car. The latter will be determined by a vote of spectators.

Also on display will be an exhibit of old car parts and brass accessories, and of names in brass script made by Arthur Evans, Bangor RD2.

The old steam pumper of the Stroudsburg Fire Department will provide plenty of spectator interest, as will exhibits of unrestored, partially restored and fully restored antique cars.

The show is being staged by the Lehigh Valley unit of the Antique Automobile Club of America.

Boys Accused In Car Theft

TWO JUVENILES, driving a car stolen from an East Stroudsburg man, were arrested by state police from Quakertown late Thursday.

The boys, one from Stroudsburg RD and the other from Bushkill, allegedly stole the car of Russell Meyers, of 80 Elk St., East Stroudsburg. Meyers told police that the car was taken from in front of his home after 11 p.m. Wednesday.

The juveniles, both on parole for previous violations, will be returned to Monroe County.

Miss Elizabeth Shupp

MISS BEATRICE SMALE returned to Bethlehem after spending a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smale.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Siegel, daughter Susan, sons, Barry and Roy, of Chicago, Ill., spent several days with Mrs. Siegel's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shafer.

Miss Marijane Everett, Miss Lilamae Shultz and Larry Souder are attending the six-week summer sessions at Penn. State University, State College.

Martin Kresge, a polio patient at St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, since November, returned home, much improved.

Jonathan and Richard Albright, of Litzitz, called on friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Nathan Burger and infant son returned home from the General hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Shupp, son and daughter, returned to their home in Florida after spending a vacation with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shupp.

MRS. LUCILLE MILLER, 44, of Bethel, Vt., is shown as she went on trial in the Brattleboro Federal Court on charges of violating the Selective Service Act. A jury convicted her on 18 counts. The Government, which called on three Army men to testify against her, claims Mrs. Miller advised young men to resist the draft. She said she is making a test case of peacetime conscription, which she believes is wrong.

Man Jailed On Charge Of Assault

ELWOOD CRAMER, 33, of Stroudsburg RD2 was committed to county jail yesterday on a charge of assault and battery.

He was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Herbert Bonser, East Stroudsburg justice of the peace. Travis Seese, assistant police chief in the borough of East Stroudsburg was the committing officer.

Defense Chief Cracks Ribs On Vacation

QUANTICO, Va., July 15 (AP)—Defense secretary Charles E. Wilson is nursing three or four cracked ribs—the result of a spill while aquaplaning.

"I guess I'll have to learn to act my age," Wilson, who is 65, told newsmen, who asked him about the accident today.

The accident occurred at Walloon Lake, Mich., on July 4, where Wilson was vacationing. Wilson was out on the lake with Asst. Secretary W. J. McNeil and a Detroit friend, Roger Emmert. He was showing McNeil how to use the tricky aquaplane, towed behind a fast powerboat.

In a sudden speedup, Wilson was bucked off the board which was traveling about 35 miles an hour.

X-rays were taken and the ribs strapped up. Then upon returning to Washington, he went to Walter Reed Hospital for further treatment. Doctors told Wilson it will be two or three weeks before the cracked ribs mend.

Average hourly earnings in North Carolina manufacturing industries are about $1.25 an hour compared with 42 cents an hour in 1939.

What About The Other 101 Troubles?

Chances are that you carry fire and auto coverage, but what about all the other common troubles that can cause financial suffering?

A quick glance through today's paper will show you some of the many kinds of insurance coverage necessary for adequate protection. Good coverage against liability suits, theft, crop losses, sickness and accidents and other unpredictable events costs little. Why not check up now by calling Stroudsburg 2810 or seeing C. H. Talbott Says Interest In Firm 'Proper'

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Talbott, whose connection with a New York firm is under study by Senate investigators, said today he has "no apology of any sort to offer for any of my business associations."

Talbott has a date with members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee next week to discuss the business connection, which he has maintained throughout his service as Air Force chief.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), said the secretary would be questioned about an acknowledged financial interest in the Paul B. Mulligan Co., a New York industrial engineering firm.

One subcommittee member who declined to be quoted by name described the firm as "a company that deals with companies which deal with the government." It makes clerical efficiency studies for private industry.

Gives Information Talbott was closeted with Robert F. Kennedy, subcommittee counsel, for about two hours at the Pentagon today. They had "a very pleasant meeting," Talbott reported. He said he gave Kennedy "all the information he wanted" and volunteered more.

In his opinion, the secretary added in a written statement, all his business connections have been "proper and ethical."

McClellan said Talbott would meet with members of the subcommittee at a mutually convenient time, perhaps next Monday or Tuesday. He emphasized the informal nature of the proceeding by saying:

"It will be in the nature of a conference in my office at which I will have other members of the subcommittee present. It is not a hearing."

"Whether a full scale investigation will result has not been determined. As of now, none has been ordered."

French Ends Tenure With Commission

HARRISBURG, July 15 (AP)—Charles A. French today ended 18 years as executive director of the State Fish Commission—the only man ever to hold the post.

His contract for the $12,500 a year job was terminated last week by the recently reorganized commission at its annual meeting.

"I wouldn't be surprised if I do a bit more fishing now—I never had too much time for it while in office," French said as he left the office.

The 57-year-old Lawrence County native was named a member of the former State Board of Fish Commissioners in 1937.

He is now a resident of Harrisburg but maintains a voting residence in Ellwood City.

H. R. Stackhouse, administrative secretary of the commission, was appointed by the commission to head the group until a successor to French is named—probably at the agency's next meeting Aug. 25.

If You Keep Your
Furs at Home . . .

Keep Them
In The Refrigerator!

Today's favorite fur can become next season's disappointment . . . unless it's stored in a cool place! But there's no need to keep your furs in the refrigerator when our scientific cold storage service costs so little!
